

Job Creation and Infrastructure

Local Government Division

Targeted capital facilities funding for local governments and community nonprofits.

Program Overview

The Job Creation and Infrastructure Program (JCIP) provides $24.7 million to two dozen local governments and nonprofit organizations for capital facilities projects. A major goal of these projects, which were appropriated funds in the 2002 Capital Budget, is to stabilize and stimulate the state's long-term economy through infrastructure development.

The goal of the Job Creation and Infrastructure Program is to help stabilize, stimulate and strengthen the state's long-term economy through the support of local construction projects.

Key Initiatives

The JCIP includes funding for a wide range of capital facilities projects around the state, including:

- Infrastructure for the cities of Grandview and Kent;
- A small business incubator in Tacoma and a skills center in Port Angeles;
- Ball fields in Yakima and Mill Creek;
- Upgrading the city of Ridgefield's wastewater treatment plant;
- Parks in Bremerton, Lake Forest Park, Seattle and Edmonds;
- Aircraft noise mitigation measures for a SeaTac-area school district; and
- Expansion of museums in Everett and Shoreline.

Achievements

Contracts have been executed for all projects funded through JCIP. As of January 2004, almost $16 million has been disbursed. Projects that have fully expended their state funding include the Puget Sound Environmental Learning Center and the Benton County Jail, which were each appropriated $2 million. Most of the JCIP projects are scheduled to be completed by June 30, 2004.
